Introduction

This report contains information on various types of units used by agencies to transport wildfire fighting equipment. The information is presented in an effort to assist those looking for safe and efficient methods to transport equipment. The data in this report is as submitted by the individual agencies and the accuracy of this information has not been verified by REC.

This publication is divided into sections that cover each specific type of equipment. Within each section, the hauling units are ordered by increasing payload.

This report is intended to be continually updated as more agencies contribute information on their units. To add you agency's unit, just print out the appropriate form and mail it to Roscommon Equipment Center, P.O. Box 68, Roscommon, MI 48653-0068, along with digital photos on a floppy disk or cd.
